When parties believe a lower court decision was made in error, they can appeal the holding and attempt to get it reversed. Drake Loeb PLLC regularly handles appeals on behalf of both appellants and appellees involving cases in which we represented a party in the lower court and also in cases where clients retain us specifically to handle an appeal from a matter handled outside of our firm. Our appellate attorneys will appear on behalf of clients in all New York State Appellate Division courts, the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, or even the Supreme Court of the United States. They will carefully review your matter to address procedural and substantive issues that may have affected the underlying determination for purposes of formulating the best and most effective strategy on appeal.

If you are interested in finding out more, we encourage you to contact us today as there may be certain steps to take within specific timeframes that, if missed, could affect your right to appeal under the law.
