Aaron C. Fitch

Glen L. Heller

Representing the interests of a not-for-profit entity requires a particular set of skills and knowledge. Glen L. Heller understands firsthand the special challenges that come with managing this type of entity as a long-time attorney for and member of the boards of many area not-for-profit organizations. He is a recognized leader in advising clients on how the Nonprofit Revitalization Act of 2013 affects their business practices and has been an invited speaker for a major accounting firm on the topic. Glen regularly advises our clients in this area on formation, applying for tax exemptions, organizational matters, the legal responsibilities of not-for-profit boards, and general business contracts.

We invite you to contact us today so you can leverage Glen's knowledge on behalf of your not-for-profit organization.
