
Drake Loeb Website Wins Omni Award for Design and Development

Winter 2016

Drake Loeb PLLC is proud to announce that its website has won a Silver Omni Award for website design and development in the business category. The firm launched its new look at the end of last year. Firmseek, Inc., a nationally recognized website design firm who works with many top law firms in the country, was responsible for the design and development; Drake Loeb produces its own content.