March 22, 2020

To Our Valued Clients and Community,

The public health crisis we are facing has brought unprecedented challenges to all of us on both a personal and professional level. We want to reassure you that our firm is operational and ready to assist our clients and larger community in whatever ways we can. Although we have implemented strict protocol for the safety of our attorneys, staff, and those that do business with us, including moving to a telework model, we remain available and prepared to serve the legal needs of our clients. We are reachable through all the ways you would normally contact us. Our attorneys and staff are set-up for remote access so that they can produce the work necessary for our clients within the framework set by various courts, clerks, and other businesses. We stand ready and able to get our clients through this by any means within our control.

Drake Loeb PLLC remains committed to the safety and health of our employees, clients, and the community. We will post updates on our website to keep you informed as this situation evolves. If you are a client with an active matter, you will receive direct communications from your attorney and team here at Drake Loeb PLLC.

In the meantime, we wish you and your loved ones good health and peace.
