Our seasoned attorneys in the area of construction are adept at providing services throughout all phases of construction for individuals, contractors, and developers. They will draft, review, and negotiate all necessary contracts, paying particular concern to time frames, payment schedules, and other specific provisions so that the end product will serve the client's purposes and provide appropriate protection.

Through our other related areas of practice, our attorneys will also assist clients in securing permits and approvals, obtaining bank loans, handling mechanics' lien issues, handling contract disputes, evaluating environmental risks and concerns, and filing lawsuits for breach of contract or construction site accidents.
