Drake Loeb PLLC is widely known as the "business" law firm. Our attorneys routinely guide clients through the transactions and legal issues encountered in all phases of business development, operation, and continuation, as well as material events such as acquisitions, sales, and dissolution. They will assist you in starting your business, drafting contracts, negotiating leases, advising you in commercial lending transactions, reviewing employment policies, considering tax issues, handling complex mergers, purchasing other businesses, selling your business, and much more. Our client base consists of all kinds of businesses, both large and small, and includes large multinational corporations, family-owned companies, not-for-profit organizations, and small partnerships.

As your business grows and changes, Drake Loeb PLLC will be there to provide you with valuable insight, clear guidance, unique options, and aggressive representation. We are also proud to serve as long-time counsel to the Orange County Chamber of Commerce.

We invite you to explore our specific areas of concentration and then contact us today to find out how we can assist you.
