Drake Loeb PLLC litigators represent corporate and individual fiduciaries, charitable organizations, beneficiaries, and existing trusts in administrative and court proceedings. Our attorneys in this practice area routinely handle will contests, allegations of fraud and breach of fiduciary obligations, and accounting proceedings. They also represent fiduciaries and beneficiaries in proceedings to remove an executor or trustee, to terminate a trust, and to reform or modify the terms of a trust. Our litigators work closely with our estate planning, probate and administration attorneys to review the aspects of a case from a transactional viewpoint and to construct an appropriate strategy.
